We partner to benefit our customers

A holistic view of financial crime requires an integrated, flexible approach to intelligence.

Our SymphonyAI Sensa-NetReveal platform is world-class technology and our partnership programme opens up opportunities for market-leading technology synergies across the breadth of financial crime and risk.

We listen to banks, insurers, and regulators to carefully choose best of breed technology partners in fighting financial crime and fraud.

How does SymphonyAI Sensa-NetReveal work with technology partners?

Synergy is at the foundation of our partnerships. To deliver the best to customers, we work with our partners to determine how our solutions can be most powerful together.

We build compelling propositions for customers, ensuring that each party has the opportunity to present its offering and demonstrate its potential in solving our customers' problems.

We are looking for partners who share this ambition and who are eager to collaborate on fresh approaches to tackling financial crime.

Where does our partnership programme operate?

Globally – SymphonyAI Sensa-NetReveal is an international business with a presence in North America, UK, Continental Europe, and APAC. We also have customers in the Middle East.

We work with our partners wherever we can ensure the high standards of service our customers expect, and we are always sensitive to the particular regional requirements of the financial services industries.

From broad appeal offerings to highly targeted or customizable solutions, if you have a great product or service, we're keen to hear from you.

What happen next?

When you downloaded this guide, we asked you to provide a brief summary of your offering. Our team will evaluate this and be in touch if we believe our companies can work well together.
